"LIVING LINK" HERE

DRUMMOND, CHRISTIAN CHURCH
PASTOR IN INDIA, TO SPEAK.

BOTH SERVICES SUNDAY

Medical Missionary, Supported by the Local Church, Will Tell of Experiences.—Family Here.

Dr. C. C. Drummond, medical missionary in Haridwar, India, and the living link of the Christian church here, will speak at the morning and evening
services of that church tomorrow, telling of his work. By the provisions of the "living links" division of foreign
work, Dr. Drummond is supported by the church here.

Mrs. Drummond and their two sons,
Donald and Clarence, both of whom
were born in India, came with Dr.
Drummond last night from Omaha.
They have been students in Lincoln,
Neb., for two years, Donald in Lincoln
academy and Clarence in the grade
schools. They expect to remain there
in school when their parents leave for India in December.

The family was forced to return to
this country two years ago by Dr.
Drummond's health. The demands on
a medical missionary are most exact-
ing, particularly in the tropical countries like India. Dr. Drummond was averaging close to 100 patients a day
and three major operations a week
when he broke down.

Has Baptized Lepers.

Dr. Drummond has spoken here before during the six years that he has
been the "living link" of the local church. His friends are congratulating him today on his evident return to health since he was last here. His return to India in December is only conditioned upon his ability to get passage for himself and Mrs. Drummond.
World conditions make it rather difficult to travel in Asia at this time.

A missionary in India for seventeen
years is Dr. Drummond's record. One
of the most interesting facts of his life
about which he will tell tomorrow is
that he has baptized lepers. He says
that the disease is not so contagious
by a great deal as is commonly supposed.

GASS COMPLIMENTS FAIR BOYS.

State Superintendent of Schools Says
They Were Fine Bunch.

Howard A. Gass, state superintendent of schools, writes Bert Cooper,
county superintendent, that he was
very proud of the boys in the state
fair school, of which Myron Baker was
a student from this county. He says that the boys were as fine a bunch as
one could wish to see, and their enthusiasm and responsiveness was remarkable.

SANG A SOLO BACKWARDS.

One of the Many Laughter Things at
the Buchanan Street League Social.

"Vote the have to ought women" began the stump speech by the Rev. R.
C. Holliday, pastor of the Buchanan
Street Methodist church, at a social
given by the Epworth League last
night. The speech, which was given
backwards to fit in with the general
scheme of the evening was on suffrage.

I. B. Williams sang a solo backwards and a number of well-known
quotations were given in reverse or-
der. Drop the handkerchief was played with all the running backwards
so it was a turned-about affair. About 150 were present.

COUNTY BOND ISSUE

Skidmore New Era Says Amount
Should Be Larger, So as to Build
All the Bridges at One Time.

This week's Skidmore New Era, edited by W. J. Skidmore, had the following:

Whether the sentiment to issue
bonds for county bridge purposes will
materialize any further than "something ought to be done" we are unable
to say. The writer has been guessing
on the bond proposition for several
years in Monroe township, all to no
purpose, so a guess on the result of a
county bond proposition, especially in
this township, might not be worth
much. But while a good many, no
doubt, would favor a county bond
proposition it would hardly seem probable that a favorable vote could be expected from this township when it has three times defeated the local bond issue.

If we have been rightly informed the
court will be petitioned to issue $100,- 000 in bonds. If that is the amount we believe the court ought to refuse to call an election. Shut up shop as far as bridge building is concerned and
wait until the people want a bond issue sufficient to at least build all the bridges that are now out.

With an assessed valuation of about $15,000,000, it is a shame that any citizen of Nodaway county should be inconvenienced for months to years by
the need of county bridges.

So if we vote a bond issue why not
have it large enough to build all the
bridges for one time at least?

CLYDE SAFE BLOWN

ROBBERS TAKE $22 FROM POSTOF-
FICE EARLY THIS MORNING.

THIEVES LEAVE NO CLUE

Bloodhounds Follow Trail to Wabash
Stock Yards—Federal Inspector
Notified.

The safe of the postoffice at Clyde
was blown open about 2:30 o'clock
this morning. Twenty-two dollars in money and a pocketbook in which
were some papers of small value, were stolen. So far as the account of the postmaster, A. W. Enis, shows, no
stamps were taken.

The thieves made a very neat job of
the safe rifling. A hole was drilled
just above the combination and it was
filled with nitro-glycerine and set off.
The noise awakened George Nathanman,
who lives two doors east of the postoffice, and also the members of the family. They thought it was thunder
and after looking around to see if there were any storm indications, they
again retired. This was about 2:30 o'clock this morning.

No Clue to Robbers.

The robbery was discovered about
six o'clock this morning by Mr. Enis
and Deputy Sheriff Gabe Purcell of Conception was summoned. A thorough search was made of the premises, depot and railroad yards but no
clue could be found.

The postoffice inspector at St. Joseph was notified at once by the Clyde
postmaster of the robbery.

Sheriff Ed Wallace and Chief of Police E. C. Moberly of this city, with the bloodhounds, went to Clyde this morning when notified of the thieving. The
dogs took the trail from the postoffice
to the Wabash depot and down through
the stock yards, where the scent was
lost.

proval. Some special musical numbers will be given with the lecture.

HOLT COUNTY WON'T PAY

Illinois Steel Company Wants to Hold
Nodaway County for Bridge
Material.

COURT HERE REFUSES TO AGREE.

The Illinois Steel Company wants $533.35 due it for material in the tri-
county bridge which was built in 1914
south of Graham. For convenience
sake the contract was made with the Nodaway county court, but the agreement was that the bills should be presented to the Nodaway, Andrew and
Holt county courts for a third each.

Nodaway and Andrew counties paid
their bills promptly. Holt county, after agreeing to pay the third, has
backed down and is claiming that the counties should pay according to their assessed valuation. This would make Nodaway pay double that of Holt.

The company now wants Nodaway
to pay and collect from Holt because
of the contract. The county court of Nodaway will not do so.

To Meet Friends in St. Joe.

Harvey L. Haines will go to St. Jo-

together there.

Nodaway at St. Joseph.

Nodaway county, Missouri, was represented by E. E. Spaulhouse, Horton & Dougan, Walter & Co., Boyer &
Plummer, W. R. Hasher, C. D. Sutton,
John Halker and Porter & Co., each
contributing a load of hogs or cattle
to the St. Joseph market.

Miss Langan to St. Louis.

Miss Grace Langan, city librarian,
will leave tomorrow for a two weeks'
vacation trip, during which she will visit friends in St. Louis, and will then go to Carlsbad, Ill., to visit her aunt, Mrs. Winifred McCabe.

MIDDLE AGE MALADY

DR. KIMBALL TELLS OF DANGERS
OF THAT PERIOD OF LIFE.

REMEDY—THREE MOTTOES

"Do Today's Work Today" and "Dare
More Tomorrow" Cures Monotony
and Keeps Romance.

"The Malady of Middle Age" was the subject of an extraordinary address by
Dr. C. A. Kimball, pastor of the White
Temple Methodist church, St. Joseph,
to the monthly banquet of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist church last night. Sixty-five men,
after a chicken dinner served by the Ladies' Aid society, listened to the
sermon-lecture in the league room.

Dr. Kimball defined the malady of middle age to be monotony. At that time of life a person is usually settled
down and doing the same things day
after day. The burden of family cares,
the pressure of business, and all those
things which go with a complete life,
at times grow wearisome when there
is no prospect of a change.

"Having left youth in the past," the
speaker said, "many allow their sensi-
bilities to become deadened and lose
the romance of life. Things which were once attractive because they were in the future are now in the present, and in many cases they have lost their appeal.

Remedy in Greek Mottoes.

"The remedy for this malady of middle age can be found in three old Greek mottoes. They are 'Do today's
work today; dare more tomorrow;
leave day after tomorrow to God.' If
a man or woman succeeds in carrying
that philosophy through life, the malady will not develop. They will be immune."

The pastor of the church, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, and the members of the brotherhood were enthusiastic this morning over the address by Dr. Kimball. "One of the best we have ever
had before the brotherhood" was their verdict. The unusualness of the theme
appealed to many.

Dr. Kimball returned to St. Joseph
on the morning Burlington today. He came last night by the Wabash through Conception Junction. He was entertained while here at the parsonage by
Rev. and Mrs. Cox.

George Moore, president of the
brotherhood, presided over a short
business session previous to the address at which routine affairs were attended to by the members.

will be seeded over in the spring. A change will eventually be made in the walk to correspond, but the plans for
this change are not definite.

NEW LODGE HALL

DEDICATED FOR THE ELMO MA-
SONS YESTERDAY.

JOE. E. REECE PRESIDES

Many Masons from Maryville and Burlington Junction Attend Dedication Ceremonies.

For the fourth time in thirty years,
dedication ceremonies were held for
Kennedy lodge, No. 329, A. F. and A.
M., at Elmo yesterday afternoon. After losing two halls by fire and the
third one by a cyclone, the lodge has
built a new brick building that is a credit to Elmo. The lodge hall is very nicely furnished.

The dedication ceremonies were held
in the afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.
J. E. Reece, deputy grand master, had charge of the ceremonies, assisted by
M. A. Peery of Maryville and O. F.
Wilson of Burlington Junction. After
the dedication of the hall the ladies of the Eastern Star were invited in and speeches followed. Speeches were made by Mayor U. S. Wright, W. G.
Sawyers, Dan R. Baker and J. E.
Reece of Maryville, Walter Mendenhall
and O. F. Wilson of Burlington Junction, Geo. P. Shoptaugh, J. S. Woods
and Rev. Alfred Snowden of Elmo.
Charles Lamar gave a brief history of
Kennedy lodge, telling of the trials
and hardships gone through the past
thirty years.

The banquet was held in the store
room under the lodge hall, following
the ceremonies, where the ladies of the Eastern Star, assisted by the ladies of Elmo, served a big supper to over 150
people. Dan R. Baker of this city, a former resident of Elmo, acted as toastmaster, and also made the principal address.

In the evening third degrees were conferred upon Harry T. Wilson and
Homer Carmichael of Burlington lodge
No. 442, of Burlington Junction. The work was put on by J. E. Reece, W.
M. E. Williams, S. W. Dr. F. C.
Wallis, J. W.; F. L. Flynt, S. D.; F. R.
Marcell, J. D.; Walter Todd, S. S.;
E. M. Bailey, J. S.

Those attending the afternoon and
evening ceremonies from Maryville
were J. F. Cook, Dan R. Baker, Fred
Yeomans, Mayor U. S. Wright, J. E.
Reece, Henry F. Hopper and wife, M.
A. Peery, F. R. Marcell, W. G. Saw-
yers, Ed Williams, Dr. F. C. Wallis, Walter Todd and F. L. Flynt.

The Maryville crowd went in cars
and with the exception of Ed Williams and Dr. Wallis stayed in Elmo
all night, on account of the bad roads
and rain. The Williams car left Elmo
at 11 o'clock last night and arrived
here at 3:30 this morning. Mayor
Wright broke the rear axle of his car
yesterday afternoon three miles from Maryville and it was necessary to hire
a car to make the trip.

Judge Charles H. Mayer of St. Joseph was in the city today.

We are authorized to announce Robert I. Young of Buchanan county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the fourth district subject to the primary election to be held August 8, 1916.

The best examples of "piffle" are those letters of European noblemen renouncing orders to which they have been appointed by the monarch of an enemy country.

THEIR WEALTH OF RUINS.

From Moberly Monitor.

America has no ruins. And so America is not considered an interesting place in which to travel. One of the superior inducements held out to rich tourists to travel in Europe is its many interesting relics. The crumbling castles, the buried cities, the broken columns, the ancient causeways and viaducts and ruined statuary all associated with memories of history and the travails of the race enrich these countries with romance and sentiment.

Like their wines which grow better with age, scenes around which cluster the associations of the past, awaken suggestions of absorbing interest.

They have been the capital of Europe which drew from American travel $300,000,000 annually. Our own beautiful mountains and fruitful plants on which no tyrants have flourished and no armies have died, have been neglected and unseen. We have no ruins and we are not interesting. No perished glories and no shattered shafts dot our land.

The present carnival of war and vandalism which seems to be destroy-

CARE OF THE TABLE LINEN

Its Life May Be Materially Lengthened If It Is Always Handled Properly.

Careful housewives who fear the effects of fruit stains on their best table linen often lay it aside during the fruit season and use in its place table squares with the square dollies or the round table coverings with the round dollies to match.

These are chosen of fine linen or patterned damask, preferably with the scalloped edges or the simple hem-stitched hems. Under them are used the a bestos mats, which perfectly protect the polished table top. Many are using the Japanese sets, made of the cotton toweling. These are herringboned together to make the square cover the desired size, some even having the blue linen knotted to form a fringe. They are pretty and cool looking with the blue Dresden china.

The use of the smaller table linens, apparently, increases the size of the laundry, but in reality it is less work to do up a number of the small pieces than it is to wash and iron the large, heavy tablecloths.

Almost all stains are removed quite readily with plain boiling water, which must be applied before any soap is used. Soap always sets a stain. But if the stain is stubborn and refuses to come out for the hot water, then salts of lemon may be applied, and the article should be allowed to stand in the sun while it dries.

Then rinse in cold water and apply the salts a second time if there are any traces of the stain still on the cloth. One may also use spirits of wine, ammonia or javel water, which latter must be rinsed out almost immediately for fear it may damage the material.

For grease or gravy spots, plain yellow soap rubbed well into them, then the boiling water turned through, will remove them at once. One must be careful with the laundry list while using the small tableware, for the loss of a few dollies spoils the set.

HELPFUL HINTS

When ironing delicate garments put powdered orris root between the folds of the ironing blanket. A delicate perfume will permeate the clothing.

Almost all vegetables—except beans—should be cooked in as little water as possible; then this water should be thickened with butter, cream and the tiniest amount of flour for the sauce.

To make boots waterproof melt together two parts beeswax to one part of mutton fat. Apply this to the leather at night, and in the morning wipe well with a piece of flannel.

If a magnet is kept in the hook and eye box, it will be an easy matter to pick up the hooks and eyes, and any hook that will not be picked up by the magnet, do not use, because it will rust.

Every cellar should have many shelves for the convenience of the housekeeper. There should be one or two hanging shelves. By this means the cellar may be kept in order and sanitary.

The Proper Spoon.

No other kitchen utensil will hasten the labor of cooking quite so much as the proper spoon.

Beating spoons which are split or perforated are essential for obtaining light and fluffy mixtures in the shortest time. They can also be used as vegetable mashers.

The tongs- spoon is an invaluable help in handling hot eggs, potatoes, etc. The strainer spoon and the measuring spoon, which usually come in sets of three, are found to be indispensable after a cook has once become accustomed to the use of them. For one dollar a complete supply of spoons can be put in the kitchen.

Persimmon Pudding.

One-half gallon good, ripe persimmons, strained through a colander, with one-half gallon of sweet milk, one teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful nutmeg, two eggs well beaten, one quart flour or enough to make batter consistency of cake batter, butter size of an egg, one and one-half teaspoonfuls sugar, one good-sized sweet potato grated and one teaspoonful salt. Bake one hour.

CERTAIN RULES THAT WILL HAVE TO BE OBSERVED.

Buying It Green and Roasting It for Oneself Is Always Advisable—Material Never Should Be Placed in Tin.

Buy your coffee green and roast it yourself. "Therein lies the main secret of the good cup of coffee. Coffee after having been long roasted loses its aroma and delicacy of flavor. From ready ground or ready roasted coffee the best results are impossible.

But if the roasting is not done properly the brew may be worse than the worst made from prepared coffee. If roasted too much the flavor is spoiled and the beverage injuriously affects the digestion. To prevent the decomposition of the acid, gum and resin in the coffee bean it is necessary that the roasting proceed uniformly without excess of heat. It is better to employ a closed receptacle, which should be shaken thoroughly about every ten minutes to prevent scorching. It should be removed from the oven in about forty-five minutes, when the coffee is reddish brown. An expert can tell by the odor when the roasting is sufficient.

Real Mocha coffee—something rarely seen, by the way—requires less roasting than any other because of the great amount of oil in the bean. In other coffees the dampness prevails over the oil and the excess of moisture disappears with the roasting. Mocha is roasted enough when it has a cinnamon color; other coffees should have more of a chestnut color. In no instance should the coffee approach blackness.

When properly roasted the coffee should be emptied on a stone or marble table, taking care to separate the beans. The sudden contact with the air and the cold surface arrests the evaporation of the essential oils. As soon as the coffee is cooled it should be placed in a glass jar and hermetically sealed. Never should it be placed in tin. It should be used as soon as possible after roasting, for no matter how carefully kept its aroma rapidly disappears. The best plan therefore is to roast only enough for one day. That insures the really good cup of coffee.

Every housewife should have a coffee mill and grind the coffee just before making the brew, grinding only enough for immediate use. When you do not use a percolator the best results are obtained by not grinding too finely. A tablespoonful of medium ground coffee to a cup of water and "one for the pot" is the usual rule for making good strong coffee.

The percolator has come to the aid of the young housewife who was uncertain of her skill under former methods.

To Make Potatoes Fluffy.

When mashing potatoes always use boiling, not cold milk. Beat hard and the potatoes will be light and fluffy.

WITH PANTALETES

French Modistes Were so Charmed With the Pantalette Idea (Although they Were Worn Way Back in 1863) That They Decided to Adopt it and Worked Out This Charming Model for Fall Wear. So Popular Has it Become Abroad, That Over Here, the Petticoat Manufacturers Are Already Beginning to Make Plans to Offset its Effect on Their Industry. The Model is a Three-Piece Street Costume. The Pantalettes and Waist Are Combined. The Material Used is Black Broadcloth Trimmed With Russian Fitch.

EDICTS OF FRENCH MODISTES

Likelihood of a Return to the Small Waist—The Latest Thing in Dance Petticoats.

The French designers say hips are still flat, and there is no sign of a curve in them, but the normal waist line may lead to the small waist, which in turn, will call for rounding hips.

Designers show a desire to revert to the Louis V fashion of the small elbow sleeve, with its deep ruffle of lace.

Quite the latest thing in dance petticoats are the loose-scaled, or petal-floated skirts, as they are called. The petticoat is of organdie, in sheath model to the knee. From it depends a flounce of scallops or petals six inches wide, gathered full enough to hang close together, though each scallop is trimmed all the way around the flounce by a heading through which the ribbon is run.

The flounces are of dotted Swiss lace and insertion trimmed, of dainty shadow embroidery, in dainty ruffled net, and in lace medallions, with lace insertion and edging. Two other new petticoats worth mentioning are the ones in pique and satine. They have darts enough to fit well without being bulky, and are finished with six-inch embroidered or tucked ruffles at the bottom. Their special appeal is that they are not transparent under thin gowns.

BETTER THAN NURSERY BIB

Little Eating Apron That Is Sure to Become a Favorite With Mothers of "Kiddies."

Away with the bib and its naughty strings that will knot or the buttons that will not button! Here is the dearest little eating apron that ever covered dainty ruffles or Dickens suits, and when mother realizes what a very simple matter the making of such an apron can be, she will hasten to fashion one for the little girl or boy in the nursery. A Turkish towel or a simple huck affair can be turned with a snip of the scissors and a few stitches into a comfortable, easily managed apron. At about two-thirds of the length of the towel cut a hole large enough for the little head to slip through. Bind this with tape, or scallop it if you wish a little extra fanciness. The shorter side is then gathered or plaited into a belt, made from wide tape on a piece of old toweling, which passes around to the front and holds the apron in place. Cross-stitch may make the little apron still more attractive, especially if the design be the favorite nursery chicks, bunnies or kittens. While the linen or huck toweling is prettier, the Turkish toweling is really more practical because of its absorbent qualities. It saves crying over spilled milk.

TAKING OTHER PEOPLE'S MAIL.

Uncle Sam Has Fine of $200, Even if Put in Box by Mistake.

The mere fact that the postmaster or some of his clerks has made a mistake and thrown mail in the wrong box is not regarded by the postal authorities as any excuse for the party who happens to get it to carry the same away or open it.

The postal authorities at Washington have recognized the fact that these mistakes will occur and have fixed a penalty of $200 on persons who take mail not their own from a postoffice and do not immediately return it.

This law is applicable to newspapers as well as letter mail. The excuse that it was the postmaster's fault cuts no figure with Uncle Sam, who insists that two wrongs doesn't make one right.

Examine your mail as you take it from the office and avoid any entanglement with the government, to say nothing of the annoyance of your neighbors whose letters or papers may occasionally stray into your possession.

MATERIALS FOR COATS

CLOTH, VELVET, FAILE, AND SILK MAY ALL BE EMPLOYED.

Special Arrangement Accentuates the Low Waist Line—No Sign That Furs Are to Be Less Worn—Every Kind in Order.

Cloth and velvet are used for long street coats, whether they be the redingote that reaches to the top of the skirt hem, or the Robespierre coat that just clears the knees. Faile is also employed when the coat is for afternoon wear and trimmed with fur. Silk is featured for outdoor wear this season, although the average American may not consider it sufficiently warm; it will admirably suit those who live in the South and Southwest; that should be joyful news to them, for the fashion makers have nearly always left them out of the reckoning when laying down the laws.

The various styles in long coats usually accent a low waist line by the manner of cutting the cloth and arranging the seams, or by the placement of some kind of belt. Cords are used, run through slides of the material, sometimes huge belts of fur are put there. The latter is one of the many ways invented to smother a garment with plenty this season.

There has never been a time since man covered himself with the skins of wild beasts to hide his bare skin that so much fur is worn. Women never refuse this fashion. They leap at it, and overdo it as much as the most ardent furrier could wish. Good or bad, dyed or natural, colored or white furs are chosen over any other kind of raiment, and economy is practiced in every other department of dress and the household in order to buy plenty.

The low-crowned hat is no longer in first fashion. The milliners decided together that no money would be forthcoming if only variations on the prevailing shape were devised for the incoming season. So they launched the high-crowned hat. The old ones won't do; of that there is no doubt. The biretta of Henry IV, the Cos-

Purple Beaver Cloth With Burnt Ochre Tips.

sack's fur turban, the postillion of 1900, the Eton schoolboy's top hat of silk beaver, the high sailor of panne plush, the Puritan hat with its silver buckle—these are features of millinery.

GOOD IDEA FOR INITIALS

Those That Can Be Brought to Light by Means of Cutwork Have Many Advantages.

Should you be tired of embroidered initials worked in solid stitches follow the idea of one clever girl and on your towels, pillowcases and other pieces of linen stamp initials that can be brought to light by means of cutwork. The effect will be more than satisfactory.

Of course, a double line of stamping is necessary in order to do the cutwork. Outline each stroke forming the letter and then buttonhole over the outlining. At intervals between the double lines make bridges. This is done by taking a long stitch from one line across to the opposite one and then working back over the line with buttonhole stitches. The closer the bridges are laid together the firmer will be the initial.

After the material on which the initial has been embroidered has been washed, cut the material away from beneath the bridges, using a sharp scissors for the purpose, and using great care not to cut a bridge.

To Cover Buttons.

Do you cover your own buttons? It means a saving and gives variety to a costume. It can be done by crochet stitches or by needlework as well as by bits of fancy silk, too insignificant for any other use. Objections have been heard on the score that the result was not as satisfactory as professional work, but the answer to that is the injunction to do all the work neatly. Slipshod methods are to be condemned everywhere, although, to be sure, time is wasted in the inside finish of frocks. Even expensive dress-makers have taken a hint from Paris and concentrated on externals.

CRETONNE TOQUE

An Out-of-the-Ordinary Millinery Creation in a Season When Velvet and Hatter's Plush Predominate, Is This Close-Fitting Toque. The Material Used is a Cretonne; This Is Sewn on the Close-Fitting Frame, Which Is Shaped to Form a Cone on the Left Side, and Draped on the Right, Where It Is Knotted and Left to Hang Loosely. A Band of Dyed Raccoon Is the Only Trimming.

NEW GARMENT HAS CHARM

Corset Cover, Easily Made at Home, Will Be Source of Gratification to Its Wearer.

If you are tired of just underwaists and corset covers, the sleeveless, low-bust kind and the wee camisole, try making this quite new garment for wear under your blouse.

Buy one yard of white silk muslin at 25 cents a yard, one and one-fourth yards of narrow, stout lace and two skeins of white mercerized cotton. Make a waist by kimono pattern with very short sleeves, folding the goods crosswise. Cut the neck V shape in front and slightly rounded or equally V'd behind; have the fronts of the waist one-eighth inch longer than the back. Scallop the entire edge and ends of sleeves and do it in buttonhole stitch, preferably well padded. Then put a double row of French eyelets inside the buttonhole stitching. The seams are under the arms. Put these seams together with the lace; down the front put the lace also, tacking to one side; the other side may be fastened with tiny snaps or with wee gold pins. Turn up the bottom of the waist and fit by means of rubber band run through the hem made. This, by the way, is the easiest way to finish all blouses just now.

Lace blouses are usually lined with chiffon, and the chiffon shrinks when the blouse is washed, leaving a garment that has lost its loveliness. With the new corset cover chiffon linings can be removed before the first washing. No lining is needed with such an underwaist.

DESIGNED FOR YOUNG MISS

Many Attractive Features Have Been Provided—Belted Coats Are Among the Favored Ones.

The box coat for misses is very youthful and becoming. Another style for misses is the flare coat, the fullness starting from the shoulders and occasionally from a small yoke. This is also made quite short and jaunty. Sometimes these coats are made with a flare back and a more fitted front. Russian styles are well liked for young people. Some of them fasten at the side, while others button up the front.

Belted coats will also be worn to a great extent. Sometimes the belt appears only at the sides, while in others it appears only in back and front. Many times belts are placed at a low waist line. High collars are worn with almost all suits, frequently arranged so as to be worn either open or closed. Coat sleeves are in regulation style, set on at a low shoulder or in modified raglan effect. Flare and gauntlet cuffs are often used as a finishing touch and are frequently of fur or velvet.

Skirts are in various styles. Simple suits are in gored, modified, circular style or with plaits at sides, front or back.

Woman's Best Friend.

A cake of magnesia and a clothes brush are a frugal woman's friends. After brushing a dusty gown rub both sides of any soiled spots with the magnesia, which comes in cakes for that purpose, hang it away for a day or two and then brush again. The spots will be found to have disappeared. Care taken with dainty clothing is the secret of dressing well on limited means. The late Mme. Modjeska had a wonderful collection of laces which were worn instead of being kept for show alone. They were cleaned with magnesia, liberally sprinkled through the meshes, the whole wrapped in tissue paper to remain until the chalk absorbed all the dirt.

SOME CHARMING NEW FROCKS

Bustles and Basques Mark Many of the Styles That Have Recently Been Introduced.

A very dashing frock is "Revanche" with its tight black satin basque caught together in points in front over a high-collared gilet of white satin. The basque, which ripples violently from the waist line, is cut in points at the bottom and edged with fur. The skirt of black cloth is full and flaring. "Florindo" is an evening coat of black and bordeaux red velvet, trimmed with skunk, and "Miguel" is a charming little creation of gray blue faille, with the skirt tucked up in back to produce a bustle effect. The turned-up folds are caught with dull pink roses. Paquin uses much brilliant red panne velvet in cloaks and frocks and much yellow taffeta—all the shades of amber—in evening gowns. These taffeta evening gowns are very short and flaring and are either scalloped or cut in points at the bottom where they are cunningly stiffened with narrow-corded ruffles, shirred very full. Often the tightly shirred little ruffles are placed on the under side of the skirt and show with each movement of the wearer.—Kansas City Star.

White Bread.

Into your bread mixer put one cupful of flour, one tablespoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and a heaping tablespoonful of lard. Then pour in one pint of boiling water; stir until smooth and allow to cool. Add one quart of luke-warm water and one-half a yeast cake dissolved in one cupful of luke-warm water. Then add flour enough to make a firm dough; knead until smooth. In the morning mold into loaves and allow to raise. Bake for one hour. This recipe makes three loaves.

Italian Mold.

Cook two tablespoonfuls of rice until tender in a pint of milk in a double saucepan, with the very thin rind of a lemon. Sweeten to taste, add three sheets of leaf gelatin and the yolks of three eggs. Let cook in a double saucepan a few minutes longer to cook the yolks; add the whites, stiffly beaten and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Pour into a wetted mould and turn out when stiff and set.

New Trimming.

Lacings appear in some of the new frocks and blouses. Sleeves are sometimes laced from the elbow to the wrist, or even from the shoulder to the elbow. Lacings appear down the front of blouses and at the collar. The lacings are of a contrasting color, usually.

She Will Recover

So her doctor said. Her friends and neighbors felt sure of it too. They have used Peruna themselves and know of its merits. That old cough that had worried her for years and years, for which she had taken all sorts of cough medicines, has disappeared. Peruna is doing the work. She will recover. Indeed, she has recovered.

Her name is Mrs. William Hohmann, 2764 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, Ill. She had suffered with catarrh of the bronchial tubes and had a terrible cough ever since a child. As she got older she grew worse. She coughed both winter and summer. Had to sit up at night. Could not sleep. "But all that has left me now, Peruna has cured me."

Musical Spectacle Coming to Empire Theatre

Scene from the Big Musical Comedy Romance, "The Prince of Tonight"

"The Prince of Tonight," in which Tom Arnold, supported by a large cast of principals and a big beauty chorus, will be seen at the Empire theater Wednesday evening, October 20, may be described as foam, frolic and fantasy. Adams, Hough and Howard are the celebrated trio who are responsible for this most popular performance of Le Comte & Flesher's offering, which has a count of two hundred and sixty times in Chicago, and shattered box office records in all the cities. The fascinating story of "The Prince of Tonight" combines modern characters and places with fantastic incidents and situations, making the whole the most original musical comedy in years. The music of Joseph E. Howard embraces the best compositions of his career. The name of Tom Arnold, in the title role, is sufficient guarantee of the character of the play. Mr. Arnold has been associated for several years with other Adams, Hough and Howard attractions, and is now scoring his greatest success in this delightful musical fantasy.

As "The Prince of Lunatia," Mr. Arnold is seen in a role which permits him to be both romantic and amusing. He is supported by one of the strongest supporting casts seen in musical comedy, and a chorus excelled by none for their vim and dash. Not only are young and pretty girls required, but the men must come up to the standard of youth and good looks. Money has been spent freely to make this scenic production one of the most elaborate ever in the history of musical shows.

The most popular song hits are "Tonight Will Never Come Again," "Mean Moon Man," "Her Eyes Are Blue for Yale," "Follow the Rainbow Trail," "I Fell in Love on Monday," "You're a Dear Old World After All," "The Girl That I'd Call Mine" and "I Don't Want to Marry Your Family."

FRENCH WOMEN WANT FIGHT

Company of Several Hundred "Troopettes" Get Very Angry When Refused Enlistment.

Paris, Oct. 16.—Mme. Louise Arnaud, the wife of a wealthy French banker, has organized a volunteer corps consisting of several hundred French and Belgian women. The Amazons were drilled by retired army officers, and several months ago Mme. Arnaud, who acts as colonel, informed War Minister Millerand that she and her "soldiers" were ready for duty at the front.

When the expected call to the trenches did not come, "Colonel" Arnaud wrote a letter to the Figaro in which she attacked the minister of war sharply and insisted that she and her gallant troops be allowed to sacrifice themselves.

As M. Millerand paid no attention to this second appeal, Mme. Arnaud decided to call upon him in person. In the uniform of a colonel of cavalry she marched to the ministry of war with fifteen of her officers and the standard of her corps.

On their march the Amazons were lustily cheered by the boulevard crowds, but they did not see M. Millerand. The minister found that he was too busy to receive them. They were greeted by a department chief who, in reply to their appeal for a chance to fight, made an eloquent speech praising their patriotism and their splendid, dashing appearance.

The official assured the women that their services were not needed now, but that they might be sent to the front later on. This promise satisfied them and they went to the nearest photograph gallery where they had their pictures taken for Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, whom they have elected honorary colonel of their corps.

GERMANS SMILE AT CZAR.

Tenants Think Little of "Little Father's" Military Ability.

Berlin, October 16.—The report that the czar had taken personal command of his armies was received with an amused smile in German military circles, because the "Little Father" has always had the reputation of being anything but a soldier.

Military life never had any attraction for Nicholas II. The foreign diplomats at his court, in their reports to their government, often sarcastically commented on his utter lack of military knowledge and training, and he was considered the least war-like of all the European sovereigns.

At his birth the ruler was appointed to a lieutenancy in the Preobrazhensky regiment of the imperial guard, but he did not enter the regiment until he was 19 years old. Then he was attached to one of the companies guarding the imperial palace at Tsarkoye Selo. This was kept secret for several months, as the Nihilists were very busy at that time.

POPULARITY.

Without doubt the constantly growing popularity of Dr. Prettyman during the many years he has been coming here can be attributed to the gratifying reports his patients give following his treatment. He does not take a case unless he believes he can get tangible results from treatment.

Those who put their cases in his hands, can have confidence that he will benefit them. His consultation and examination free at the Linville Hotel, Monday, Oct. 18.

Wants American Citizenship.

Marion Sorensen of Clyde filed a petition for naturalization with the circuit clerk this morning. His birthplace was Herning, Denmark, and he came to this country through Canada in 1900. C. J. Merrigan of Clyde and E. L. Ferritor of Maryville are his witnesses.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste, and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

ADD SALAD DISHES TO MENU

People Today Eat Too Much Cooked Food That Is Frequently Lacking in Nutritive Qualities.

It has long been a joke how cats and dogs, when out of sorts, fly to grass or some kind of green food for relief. The animal knows by instinct what only a few human beings are beginning to learn from experience—namely, that nature has provided vegetables of the leaf order, rich in mineral salts. These salts possess a double power—they not only combine with the acids and poisons in the body, rendering them powerless, but they also drive them out of the system altogether.

It is not too much to say that no great mental, moral or physical progress can be made without an ample supply of this vegetable food. Salad is the one ingredient of our regular diet which we cannot afford to do without.

Some people say salad is cold and indigestible, but cabbage, if eaten raw, needs only two and a half hours for digestion, as against five hours when boiled! The boiling of green foods destroys the original organic combination of the mineral salts.

The blood of a healthy person should be alkaline—that is, the opposite of acid—and it is the alkaline salts in vegetables which bring about this healthy condition.

Many thousands of men and women of all ages suffer from anemia, from having lived almost entirely on cooked food.

To those long accustomed to highly flavored food, salads will at first seem tasteless, but a liking for them comes with use.

Salad should be very carefully washed in several changes of clean water. This is essential. During washing the leaves should be well picked over and inspected.

Leaves should be torn, not cut. When done, they can be allowed to soak for an hour, or overnight, but not longer in cold water, to which a little lemon juice has been added to increase the crispness of the leaves.

The Japanese use the petals of many flowers for salads. Chrysanthemums, stocks, violets, roses, nasturtiums and dandelions are especially good, as they possess strong antitoxic powers.

PARSNIP NOT GIVEN ITS DUE

With Proper Preparation the Vegetable Should Be One of the Greatest Table Favorites.

Do you like parsnips? If you don't, why don't you? If they cost as much as French artichokes—which have far less flavor—wouldn't you like them? Perhaps the reason they have never appealed to you is because they are so common that they are fed to the cattle. Often our likes and dislikes for food are based on such reasoning.

Of course, parsnips must be carefully cooked to be really worth the eating. Baked parsnips have a delicious flavor. To prepare them, wash them and pare them and steam them until tender. Then slice them lengthwise and put them in a baking dish, with butter and pepper and salt sprinkled over them. Bake them until brown in a moderate oven.

Parsnip salad is made of parsnips that have been steamed until tender, sliced crosswise, dredged in flour and fried brown in butter. Chill them and put them on lettuce leaves and add a teaspoonful of chopped ham and one of hard-boiled egg chopped fine to each plate. Sprinkle a little chopped parsley over them and serve with mayonnaise.

Parsnip fritters are made from mashed boiled parsnips. To a pint of it add a teaspoonful of flour, a well-beaten egg and salt and pepper. Make into flat cakes and fry brown.

Scalloped parsnips: Mix two cups of cold, mashed parsnips with two tablespoonfuls of butter and cream enough to make smooth. Put in a pudding dish, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake until brown.

IN WASHABLE LINGERIE

MANY CHARMING AND PRACTICAL DESIGNS SHOWN.

French Ideas Improved Upon by American Makers of Underwear —All Kinds of Laces Have Sanction of Fashion.

The best of French ideas have been adopted by American designers and transferred into washable lingerie. Such a display of charming and practical conceits are glimpsed in the lingerie field that each one seems prettier than the other. It is gratifying to note that even in the moderate-priced undergarments the quality is not sacrificed for the benefit of cheaper showy trimmings and workmanship.

Laces of all kinds are used on feminine underapparel. Valenciennes, binche, fancy net laces, milan and ribbon laces such as bruges, are amply used. Openwork embroidery in English and Madeira styles in the form of motifs, wheels and flowers meet in various ways with lace trimming. Little tiny plaits alternating with handmade openwork are features of the white lingerie, which does not permit of a touch of color to mar its snowy fairness.

The newest lingerie is of silk voile trimmed with a succession of frills and footings.

A nightgown trimmed with ribbon threaded through puffs of net in empire style had rather wide satin ribbons used to draw the tucked upper part together and relied more upon the grace of outline and daintiness of material for its charm than upon any adornment of lace.

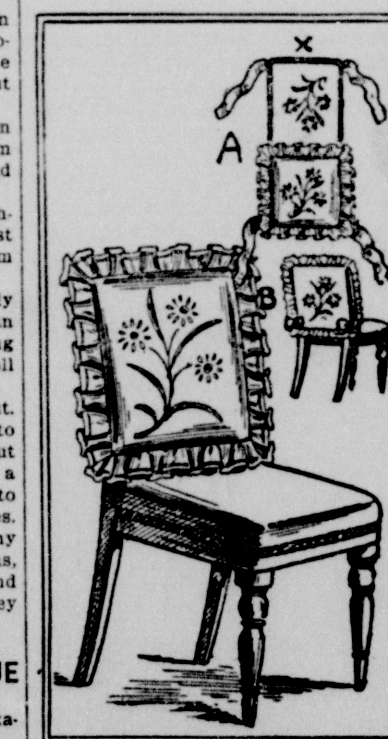

Nightgowns of lustrous pussy willow taffeta are made in redingote style, trimmed simply with bows of ribbon and picot edging. A row of large eyelets just below the bust and another row just below the knees allow wide ribbons to be drawn through and tied in bow knots. Deep square scallops at the hem finish the rather full skirt portion.

Almost all the chemises have removable shoulder straps. They are made shorter than usual and have gained in width what they lost in length.

KEEPS CUSHION IN POSITION

Device Does Away With Difficulties That Every Housekeeper Has No Doubt Encountered.

A cushion at the back of an ordinary dining room chair is another comfort, especially so with a chair the back of which is composed solely of wood, but it is difficult, if not almost impossible, to keep a cushion in position in a chair of this description, as the least forward movement of the occupant of the chair causes the cushion to slip out of place; then again, if one sits at a table with back to the fire, it is often a comfort to have something over the back of the chair.

In this little sketch we illustrate a way in which this difficulty may be met, and it is a notion that can be carried out with any ordinary cushion already in existence. It merely consists of sewing a piece of material, about the same size as the cushion, but a trifle longer, to one edge of it. To the end of this piece of material ribbon strings are sewed, and on either side of the lower edge of the cushion ribbon strings are also attached.

Diagram A, on the right of the illustration, explains this, the cross indicating the large tab of material which is allowed to hang down behind the back of the chair and then secured in position by tying the ribbon strings together. This is shown accomplished in diagram B.

The tab should be made of the same material as the cushion is covered with, a similar design may possibly be worked upon it, and it should be lined with soft silk and edged with a silk cord.

Rivals of Serge.

Gaberline and woollen duvetyn are rivals of serge and velvet, but silk often displays velvet checks and stripes, and skirts of this would accompany a plain velvet bodice.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"LIVING LINK" HERE

DRUMMOND, CHRISTIAN CHURCH
PASTOR IN INDIA, TO SPEAK.

BOTH SERVICES SUNDAY

Medical Missionary, Supported by the Local Church, Will Tell of Experiences.—Family Here.

Dr. C. C. Drummond, medical missionary in Harid, India, and the living link of the Christian church here,
will speak at the morning and evening
services of that church tomorrow, telling of his work. By the provisions of
the "living links" division of foreign
work, Dr. Drummond is supported by
the church here.

Mrs. Drummond and their two sons,
Donald and Clarence, both of whom
were born in India, came with Dr.
Drummond last night from Omaha.
They have been students in Lincoln,
Neb., for two years, Donald in Cotner
academy and Clarence in the grade
schools. They expect to remain there
in school when their parents leave for
India in December.

The family was forced to return to
this country two years ago by Dr.
Drummond's health. The demands on
a medical missionary are most exact-
ing, particularly in the tropical countries like India. Dr. Drummond was
averaging close to 100 patients a day
and three major operations a week
when he broke down.

Has Baptized Lepers.

Dr. Drummond has spoken here before during the six years that he has
been the "living link" of the local
church. His friends are congratulat-
ing him today on his evident return to
health since he was last here. His return to India in December is only con-
ditioned upon his ability to get passage for himself and Mrs. Drummond.
World conditions make it rather difficult to travel in Asia at this time.

A missionary in India for seventeen
years is Dr. Drummond's record. One
of the most interesting facts of his life
about which he will tell tomorrow is
that he has baptized lepers. He says
that the disease is not so contagious
by a great deal as is commonly supposed.

GASS COMPLIMENTS FAIR BOYS.

State Superintendent of Schools Says
They Were Fine Bunch.

Howard A. Gass, state superintendent of schools, writes Bert Cooper,
county superintendent, that he was
very proud of the boys in the state
fair school, of which Myron Baker was
a student from this county. He says
that the boys were as fine a bunch as
one could wish to see, and their enthusiasm and responsiveness was remarkable.

SANG A SOLO BACKWARDS.

One of the Many Laughable Things at
the Buchanan Street League Social.
"Vote the have to ought women" began the stump speech by the Rev. R.
C. Holliday, pastor of the Buchanan
Street Methodist church, at a social
given by the Epworth League last
night. The speech, which was given
backwards to fit in with the general
scheme of the evening was on suffrage.
I. B. Williams sang a solo back-
wards and a number of well-known
quotations were given in reverse or-
der. Drop the handkerchief was
played with all the running backwards
so it was a turned-about affair. About 150 were present.

COUNTY BOND ISSUE

Skidmore New Era Says Amount
Should Be Larger, So as to Build
All the Bridges at One Time.

This week's Skidmore New Era, edited by W. J. Skidmore, had the following:

Whether the sentiment to issue
bonds for county bridge purposes will
materialize any further than "some-
thing ought to be done" we are unable
to say. The writer has been guessing
on the bond proposition for several
years in Monroe township, all to no
purpose, so a guess on the result of a
county bond proposition, especially in
this township, might not be worth
much. But while a good many, no
doubt, would favor a county bond
proposition it would hardly seem prob-
able that a favorable vote could be expected from this township when it has three times defeated the local bond
issue.

If we have been rightly informed the
court will be petitioned to issue $100,- 000 in bonds. If that is the amount we believe the court ought to refuse to
call an election. Shut up shop as far
as bridge building is concerned and
wait until the people want a bond issue sufficient to at least build all the
bridges that are now out.

With an assessed valuation of about $15,000,000, it is a shame that any citizen of Nodaway county should be in-
convenienced for months to years by
the need of county bridges.

So if we vote a bond issue why not
have it large enough to build all the
bridges for one time at least?

CLYDE SAFE BLOWN

ROBBERS TAKE $22 FROM POSTOF-
FICE EARLY THIS MORNING.

THIEVES LEAVE NO CLUE

Bloodhounds Follow Trail to Wabash
Stock Yards—Federal Inspector
Notified.

The safe of the postoffice at Clyde
was blown open about 2:30 o'clock
this morning. Twenty-two dollars in
money and a pocketbook in which
were some papers of small value, were
stolen. So far as the account of the postmaster, A. W. Enis, shows, no
stamps were taken.

The thieves made a very neat job of
the safe rifling. A hole was drilled
just above the combination and it was
filled with nitro-glycerine and set off.
The noise awakened George Nathman,
who lives two doors east of the postoffice, and also the members of the
family. They thought it was thunder
and after looking around to see if
there were any storm indications, they
again retired. This was about 2:30
o'clock this morning.

No Clue to Robbers.
The robbery was discovered about
six o'clock this morning by Mr. Enis
and Deputy Sheriff Gabe Purcell of Conception was summoned. A thorough search was made of the premises, depot and railroad yards but no
clue could be found.

The postoffice inspector at St. Joseph was notified at once by the Clyde
postmaster of the robbery.
Sheriff Ed Wallace and Chief of Police E. C. Moberly of this city, with the
bloodhounds, went to Clyde this morning when notified of the thieving. The
dogs took the trail from the postoffice
to the Wabash depot and down through
lost.

HOLT COUNTY WON'T PAY

Illinois Steel Company Wants to Hold
Nodaway County for Bridge
Material.

COURT HERE REFUSES TO AGREE.

The Illinois Steel Company wants $533.35 due for material in the tri-
county bridge which was built in 1914
south of Graham. For convenience
sake the contract was made with the Nodaway county court, but the agreement was that the bills should be presented to the Nodaway, Andrew and
Holt county courts for a third each.

Nodaway and Andrew counties paid
their bills promptly. Holt county, after agreeing to pay the third, has
backed down and is claiming that the
counties should pay according to their assessed valuation. This would make Nodaway pay double that of Holt.

The company now wants Nodaway
to pay and collect from Holt because
of the contract. The county court of
Nodaway will not do so.

To Meet Friends in St. Joe.

together there.

Nodaway at St. Joseph.

Nodaway county, Missouri, was represented by E. E. Spainhower, Horton

Plummer, W. R. Hasher, C. D. Sutton,
Joe Halker and Porter & Co., each
contributing a load of hogs or cattle
to the St. Joseph market.

Miss Langan to St. Louis.

Miss Grace Langan, city librarian,
will leave tomorrow for a two weeks'
vacation trip, during which she will
visit friends in St. Louis, and will then go to Carlyle, Ill., to visit her
aunt, Mrs. Winifred McCabe.

MIDDLE AGE MALADY

DR. KIMBALL TELLS OF DANGERS
OF THAT PERIOD OF LIFE.

REMEDY—THREE MOTTOES

"Do Today's Work Today" and "Dare
More Tomorrow" Cures Monotony
and Keeps Romance.

"The Malady of Middle Age" was the
subject of an extraordinary address by
Dr. C. A. Kimball, pastor of the White
Temple Methodist church, St. Joseph,
to the monthly banquet of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist
church last night. Sixty-five men,
after a chicken dinner served by the Ladies' Aid society, listened to the
sermon-lecture in the league room.

Dr. Kimball defined the malady of middle age to be monotony. At that
time of life a person is usually settled
down and doing the same things day
after day. The burden of family cares,
the pressure of business, and all those
things which go with a complete life,
at times grow wearisome when there
is no prospect of a change.

"Having left youth in the past," the
speaker said, "many allow their sensi-
bilities to become deadened and lose
the romance of life. Things which
were once attractive because they were in the future are now in the present,
and in many cases they have lost their appeal.

Remedy in Greek Mottoes.
"The remedy for this malady of middle age can be found in three old Greek mottoes. They are 'Do today's
work today; dare more tomorrow;
leave day after tomorrow to God.' If
a man or woman succeeds in carrying
that philosophy through life, the malady will not develop. They will be immune."

The pastor of the church, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, and the members of the brotherhood were enthusiastic this
morning over the address by Dr. Kim-
ball. "One of the best we have ever
had before the brotherhood" was their
verdict. The unusualness of the theme
appealed to many.

Dr. Kimball returned to St. Joseph
on the morning Burlington today. He
came last night by the Wabash through Conception Junction. He was entertained while here at the parsonage by
Rev. and Mrs. Cox.

George Moore, president of the
brotherhood, presided over a short
business session previous to the address at which routine affairs were attended to by the members.

this change are not definite.

NEW LODGE HALL

DEDICATED FOR THE ELMO MA-
SONS YESTERDAY.

JOE. E. REECE PRESIDES

Many Masons from Maryville and Bur-
lington Junction Attend Dedication Ceremonies.

For the fourth time in thirty years,
dedication ceremonies were held for
Kennedy lodge, No. 329, A. F. and A.
M., at Elmo yesterday afternoon. After losing two halls by fire and the
third one by a cyclone, the lodge has
built a new brick building that is a credit to Elmo. The lodge hall is very nicely furnished.

The dedication ceremonies were held
in the afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.
J. E. Reece, deputy grand master, had
charge of the ceremonies, assisted by
M. A. Peery of Maryville and O. F.
Wilson of Burlington Junction. After
the dedication of the hall the ladies of
the Eastern Star were invited in and
speeches followed. Speeches were made by Mayor U. S. Wright, J. E.
Reece, Dan R. Baker and J. G. Sawyers of Maryville, Walter Mendenhall
and O. F. Wilson of Burlington Junction, Geo. P. Shoptaugh, J. S. Woods
and Rev. Alfred Snowden of Elmo.
Charles Lamar gave a brief history of
Kennedy lodge, telling of the trials
and hardships gone through the past
thirty years.

The banquet was held in the store
room under the lodge hall, following
the ceremonies, where the ladies of the Eastern Star, assisted by the ladies of Elmo, served a big supper to over 150
people. Dan R. Baker of this city, a former resident of Elmo, acted as toastmaster, and also made the principal address.

In the evening third degrees were
conferred upon Harry T. Wilson and
Homer Carmichael of Burlington lodge
No. 442, of Burlington Junction. The
work was put on by J. E. Reece, W.
M. E. Williams, S. W. Dr. F. C.
Wallis, J. W. F. L. Flynt, S. D.; F. R.
Marcell, J. D.; Walter Todd, S. S.;
E. M. Bailey, J. S.

Those attending the afternoon and
evening ceremonies from Maryville
were J. F. Cook, Dan R. Baker, Fred
Yeomans, Mayor U. S. Wright, J. E.
Reece, Henry F. Hopper and wife, M.
A. Peery, F. R. Marcell, W. G. Saw-
yers, Ed Williams, Dr. F. C. Wallis, Wal-
ter Todd and F. L. Flynt.

The Maryville crowd went in cars
and with the exception of Ed Williams and Dr. Wallis stayed in Elmo
all night, on account of the bad roads
and rain. The Williams car left Elmo
at 11 o'clock last night and arrived
here at 3:30 this morning. Mayor
Wright broke the rear axle of his car
yesterday afternoon three miles from
Maryville and it was necessary to hire
a car to make the trip.

Judge Charles H. Mayer of St. Joseph was in the city today.

Announcement

We are authorized to announce Robert I. Young of Buchanan county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district subject to the primary election to be held August 8, 1916.

The best examples of "piffle" are those letters of European noblemen, renouncing orders to which they have been appointed by the monarch of an enemy country.

Of all the papers that carried an account of a New York man who died of anthrax, few thought to tell their readers that anthrax is simply the foot and mouth disease.

Ex-Governor Hadley refuses to be sidetracked. He would rather run for the senate than for governor again. Mr. Hadley is wise enough to know that the governor of a state, unless he is above the ordinary makes more enemies than friends as governor. They might be passive or fogging if a man cast his ambitions in some other direction, but not when he attempts to repeat.

THEIR WEALTH OF RUINS.

From Moberly Monitor.

America has no ruins. And so America is not considered an interesting place in which to travel. One of the superior inducements held out to rich tourists to travel in Europe is its many interesting relics. The crumbling castles, the buried cities, the broken columns, the ancient causeways and viaducts and ruined statuary all associated with memories of history and the travails of the race enrich these countries with romance and sentiment.

Like their wines which grow better with age, scenes around which cluster the associations of the past, awaken suggestions of absorbing interest.

They have been the capital of Europe which drew from American travel $300,000,000 annually. Our own beautiful mountains and fruitful plants on which no tyrants have flourished and no armies have died, have been neglected and unseen. We have no ruins and we are not interesting. No perished glories and no shattered shafts dot our land.

The present carnival of war and vandalism which seems to be destroying

ing old countries is making them rich in added assets of the kind which tourists seek. Europe is accumulating a stock of new ruins which will yield a handsome income when peace is restored. But thank heaven we are poor in ruins.

CARE OF THE TABLE LINEN

Its Life May Be Materially Lengthened If It Is Always Handled Properly.

Careful housewives who fear the effects of fruit stains on their best table linen often lay it aside during the fruit season and use in its place table squares with the square dollies or the round table coverings with the round dollies to match.

These are chosen of fine linen or patterned damask, preferably with the scalloped edges or the simple hem-stitched hems. Under them are used the a bestos mats, which perfectly protect the polished table top. Many are using the Japanese sets, made of the cotton toweling. These are herringboned together to make the square cover the desired size, some even having the blue linen knotted to form a fringe. They are pretty and cool looking with the blue Dresden china.

The use of the smaller table linens, apparently, increases the size of the laundry, but in reality it is less work to do up a number of the small pieces than it is to wash and iron the large, heavy tablecloths.

Almost all stains are removed quite readily with plain boiling water, which must be applied before any soap is used. Soap always sets a stain. But if the stain is stubborn and refuses to come out for the hot water, then salts of lemon may be applied, and the article should be allowed to stand in the sun while it dries.

Then rinse in cold water and apply the salts a second time if there are any traces of the stain still on the cloth. One may also use spirits of wine, ammonia or javel water, which latter must be rinsed out almost immediately for fear it may damage the material.

For grease or gravy spots, plain yellow soap rubbed well into them, then the boiling water turned through, will remove them at once. One must be careful with the laundry list while using the small tableware, for the loss of a few dollies spoils the set.

When ironing delicate garments put powdered orris root between the folds of the ironing blanket. A delicate perfume will permeate the clothing.

Almost all vegetables—except beans—should be cooked in as little water as possible; then this water should be thickened with butter, cream and the tiniest amount of flour for the sauce.

To make boots waterproof melt together two parts beeswax to one part of mutton fat. Apply this to the leather at night, and in the morning wipe well with a piece of flannel.

If a magnet is kept in the hook and eye box, it will be an easy matter to pick up the hooks and eyes, and any hook that will not be picked up by the magnet, do not use, because it will rust.

Every cellar should have many shelves for the convenience of the housekeeper. There should be one or two hanging shelves. By this means the cellar may be kept in order and sanitary.

The Proper Spoon.

No other kitchen utensil will hasten the labor of cooking quite so much as the proper spoon.

Beating spoons which are split or perforated are essential for obtaining light and fluffy mixtures in the shortest time. They can also be used as vegetable mashers.

The tongs-spoon is an invaluable help in handling hot eggs, potatoes, etc. The strainer spoon and the measuring spoon, which usually come in sets of three, are found to be indispensable after a cook has once become accustomed to the use of them. For one dollar a complete supply of spoons can be put in the kitchen.

Persimmon Pudding.

One-half gallon good, ripe persimmons, strained through a colander, with one-half gallon of sweet milk, one teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful nutmeg, two eggs well beaten, one quart flour or enough to make batter consistency of cake batter, butter size of an egg, one and one-half teaspoonfuls sugar, one good-sized sweet potato grated and one teaspoonful salt. Bake one hour.

Wisconsin Guest Leaves.

Mrs. Mary Root of Beloit, Wis., who has been visiting her nieces, Mrs. Henry Wright and Mrs. J. F. Hull, left yesterday for Parnell, where she will spend a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Addy.

MAKING GOOD COFFEE

CERTAIN RULES THAT WILL HAVE TO BE OBSERVED.

Buying It Green and Roasting It for Oneself Is Always Advisable—Material Never Should Be Placed in Tin.

Buy your coffee green and roast it yourself. "Herein lies the main secret of the good cup of coffee. Coffee after having been long roasted loses its aroma and delicacy of flavor. From ready ground or ready roasted coffee the best results are impossible.

But if the roasting is not done properly the brew may be worse than the worst made from prepared coffee. If roasted too much the flavor is spoiled and the beverage injuriously affects the digestion. To prevent the decomposition of the acid, gum and resin in the coffee bean it is necessary that the roasting proceed uniformly without excess of heat. It is better to employ a closed receptacle, which should be shaken thoroughly about every ten minutes to prevent scorching. It should be removed from the oven in about forty-five minutes, when the coffee is reddish brown. An expert can tell by the odor when the roasting is sufficient.

Real Mocha coffee—something rarely seen, by the way—requires less roasting than any other because of the great amount of oil in the bean. In other coffees the dampness prevails over the oil and the excess of moisture disappears with the roasting. Mocha is roasted enough when it has a cinnamon color; other coffees should have more of a chestnut color. In no instance should the coffee approach blackness.

When properly roasted the coffee should be emptied on a stone or marble table, taking care to separate the beans. The sudden contact with the air and the cold surface arrests the evaporation of the essential oils. As soon as the coffee is cooled it should be placed in a glass jar and hermetically sealed. Never should it be placed in tin. It should be used as soon as possible after roasting, for no matter how carefully kept its aroma rapidly disappears. The best plan therefore is to roast only enough for one day. That insures the really good cup of coffee.

Every housewife should have a coffee mill and grind the coffee just before making the brew, grinding only enough for immediate use. When you do not use a percolator the best results are obtained by not grinding too finely. A tablespoonful of medium ground coffee to a cup of water and "one for the pot" is the usual rule for making good strong coffee.

The percolator has come to the aid of the young housewife who was uncertain of her skill under former methods.

To Make Potatoes Fluffy.

When mashing potatoes always use boiling, not cold milk. Beat hard and the potatoes will be light and fluffy.

To Assist in Meetings.

The Rev. Lewis M. Hale, pastor of the First Baptist church, will go to Canton, Mo., November 8, where he will assist the pastor of the Baptist church there in holding a revival service.

WITH PANTALETTES

French Modistes Were so Charmed With the Pantalette Idea (Although they Were Worn Way Back in 1863) That They Decided to Adopt it and Worked Out This Charming Model for Fall Wear. So Popular Has it Become Abroad, That Over Here, the Petticoat Manufacturers Are Already Beginning to Make Plans to Offset its Effect on their Industry. The Model is a Three-Piece Street Costume. The Pantaloons and Waist Are Combined. The Material Used is Black Broadcloth Trimmed With Russian Fitch.

EDICTS OF FRENCH MODISTES

Likelihood of a Return to the Small Waist—The Latest Thing in Dance Petticoats.

The French designers say hips are still flat, and there is no sign of a curve in them, but the normal waist line may lead to the small waist, which in turn, will call for rounding hips.

Designers show a desire to revert to the Louis V fashion of the small elbow sleeve, with its deep ruffle of lace.

Quite the latest thing in dance petticoats are the loose-scaled, or petal-floated skirts, as they are called. The petticoat is of organdie, in sheath model to the knee. From it depends a flounce of scallops or petals six inches wide, gathered full enough to hang close together, though each scallop is trimmed all the way around the flounce by a beading through which the ribbon is run.

The flounces are of dotted Swiss lace and insertion trimmed, of dainty shadow embroidery, in dainty ruffled net, and in lace medallions, with lace insertion and edging. Two other new petticoats worth mentioning are the ones in pique and satin. They have darts enough to fit well without being bulky, and are finished with six-inch embroidered or tucked ruffles at the bottom. Their special appeal is that they are not transparent under thin gowns.

BETTER THAN NURSERY BIB

Little Eating Apron That Is Sure to Become a Favorite With Mothers of "Kiddies."

Away with the bib and its naughty strings that will knot or the buttons that will not button! Here is the dearest little eating apron that ever covered dainty ruffles or Dickens suits, and when mother realizes what a very simple matter the making of such an apron can be, she will hasten to fashion one for the little girl or boy in the nursery. A Turkish towel or a simple huck affair can be turned with a snap of the scissors and a few stitches into a comfortable, easily managed apron. At about two-thirds of the length of the towel cut a hole large enough for the little head to slip through. Bind this with tape, or scallop it if you wish a little extra fanciness. The shorter side is then gathered or plaited into a belt, made from wide tape on a piece of old towel, which passes around to the front and holds the apron in place. Cross-stitch may make the little apron still more attractive, especially if the design be the favorite nursery chicks, bunnies or kittens. While the linen or huck toweling is prettier, the Turkish toweling is really more practical because of its absorbent qualities. It saves crying over spilled milk.

TAKING OTHER PEOPLE'S MAIL.

Uncle Sam Has Fire of $200. Even if Put in Box by Mistake.

The mere fact that the postmaster or some of his clerks has made a mistake and thrown mail in the wrong box is not regarded by the postal authorities as any excuse for the party who happens to get it to carry the same away or open it.

The postal authorities at Washington have recognized the fact that these mistakes will occur and have fixed a penalty of $200 on persons who take mail not their own from a postoffice and do not immediately return it.

This law is applicable to newspapers as well as letter mail. The excuse that it was the postmaster's fault cuts no figure with Uncle Sam, who insists that two wrongs doesn't make one right.

Examine your mail as you take it from the office and avoid any entanglement with the government, to say nothing of the annoyance of your neighbors whose letters or papers may occasionally stray into your possession.

CLOTH, VELVET, FAILLE, AND SILK MAY ALL BE EMPLOYED.

Special Arrangement Accentuates the Low Waist Line—No Sign That Furs Are to Be Less Worn—Every Kind in Order.

Cloth and velvet are used for long street coats, whether they be the redingote that reaches to the top of the skirt hem, or the Robespierre coat that just clears the knees. Faille is also employed when the coat is for afternoon wear and trimmed with fur. Silk is featured for outdoor wear this season, although the average American may not consider it sufficiently warm; it will admirably suit those who live in the South and Southwest; that should be joyful news to them, for the fashion makers have nearly always left them out of the reckoning when laying down the laws.

The various styles in long coats usually accent a low waist line by the manner of cutting the cloth and arranging the seams, or by the placement of some kind of belt. Cords are used, run through slides of the material, sometimes huge belts of fur are put there. The latter is one of the many ways invented to smother a garment with plenty this season.

There has never been a time since man covered himself with the skins of wild beasts to hide his bare skin that so much fur is worn. Women never refuse this fashion. They leap at it, and overdo it as much as the most ardent furrier could wish. Good or bad, dyed or natural, colored or white furs are chosen over any other kind of raiment, and economy is practiced in every other department of dress and the household in order to buy peltry.

The low-crowned hat is no longer in first fashion. The milliners decided together that no money would be forthcoming if only variations on the prevailing shape were devised for the incoming season. So they launched the high-crowned hat. The old ones won't do; of that there is no doubt.

sack's fur turban, the postilion of 1900, the Eton schoolboy's top hat of silk beaver, the high sailor of panne plush, the Puritan hat with its silver buckle—these are features of millinery.

GOOD IDEA FOR INITIALS

Those That Can Be Brought to Light by Means of Cutwork Have Many Advantages.

Should you be tired of embroidered initials worked in solid stitches follow the idea of one clever girl and on your towels, pillowcases and other pieces of linen stamp initials that can be brought to light by means of cutwork. The effect will be more than satisfactory.

Of course, a double line of stamping is necessary in order to do the cutwork. Outline each stroke forming the letter and then buttonhole over the outlining. At intervals between the double lines make bridges. This is done by taking a long stitch from one line across to the opposite one and then working back over the line with buttonhole stitches. The closer the bridges are laid together the firmer will be the initial.

After the material on which the initial has been embroidered has been washed, cut the material away from beneath the bridges, using a sharp scissors for the purpose, and using great care not to cut a bridge.

To Cover Buttons.

Do you cover your own buttons? It means a saving and gives variety to a costume. It can be done by crochet stitches or by needlework as well as by bits of fancy silk, too insignificant for any other use. Objections have been heard on the score that the result was not as satisfactory as professional work, but the answer to that is the injunction to do all the work neatly. Slipshod methods are to be condemned everywhere, although, to be sure, time is wasted in the inside finish of frocks. Even expensive dress-makers have taken a hint from Paris and concentrated on externals.

CRETONNE TOQUE

An Out-of-the-Ordinary Millinery Creation in a Season When Velvet and Hatter's Plush Predominate, Is This Close-Fitting Toque. The Material Used Is a Cretonne; This Is Sewn on the Close-Fitting Frame, Which Is Shaped to Form a Cone on the Left Side, and Draped on the Right, Where It Is Knotted and Left to Hang Loosely. A Band of Dyed Raccoon Is the Only Trimming.

NEW GARMENT HAS CHARM

Corset Cover, Easily Made at Home, Will Be Source of Gratification to Its Wearer.

If you are tired of just underwaists and corset covers, the sleeveless, low-bust kind and the wee camisole, try making this quite new garment for wear under your blouse.

Buy one yard of white silk muslin at 25 cents a yard, one and one-fourth yards of narrow, stout lace and two skeins of white mercerized cotton. Make a waist by kimono pattern with very short sleeves, folding the goods crosswise. Cut the neck V shape in front and slightly rounded or equally V'd behind; have the fronts of the waist one-eighth inch longer than the back. Scallop the entire edge and ends of sleeves and do it in buttonhole stitch, preferably well padded. Then put a double row of French eyelets inside the buttonhole stitching. The seams are under the arms. Put these seams together with the lace; down the front put the lace also, tacking to one side; the other side may be fastened with tiny snaps or with wee gold pins. Turn up the bottom of the waist and fit by means of rubber band run through the hem made. This, by the way, is the easiest way to finish all blouses just now.

Lace blouses are usually lined with chiffon, and the chiffon shrinks when the blouse is washed, leaving a garment that has lost its loveliness. With the new corset cover chiffon linings can be removed before the first washing. No lining is needed with such an underwaist.

Many Attractive Features Have Been Provided—Belted Coats Are Among the Favored Ones.

The box coat for misses is very youthful and becoming. Another style for misses is the flare coat, the fullness starting from the shoulders and occasionally from a small yoke. This is also made quite short and jaunty. Sometimes these coats are made with a flare back and a more fitted front. Russian styles are well liked for young people. Some of them fasten at the side, while others button up the front.

Belted coats will also be worn to a great extent. Sometimes the belt appears only at the sides, while in others it appears only in back and front. Many times belts are placed at a low waist line. High collars are worn with almost all suits, frequently arranged so as to be worn either open or closed. Coat sleeves are in regulation style, set on at a low shoulder or in modified raglan effect. Flare and gauntlet cuffs are often used as a finishing touch and are frequently of fur or velvet.

Skirts are in various styles. Simple suits are in gored, modified, circular style or with plaits at sides, front or back.

Woman's Best Friend.

A cake of magnesia and a clothes brush are a frugal woman's friends. After brushing a dusty gown rub both sides of any soiled spots with the magnesia, which comes in cakes for that purpose, hang it away for a day or two and then brush again. The spots will be found to have disappeared. Care taken with dainty clothing is the secret of dressing well on limited means. The late Mme. Modjeska had a wonderful collection of laces which were worn instead of being kept for show alone. They were cleaned with magnesia, liberally sprinkled through the meshes, the whole wrapped in tissue paper to remain until the chalk absorbed all the dirt.

SOME CHARMING NEW FROCKS

Bustles and Basques Mar: Many of the Styles That Have Recently Been Introduced.

A very dashing frock is "Revanche" with its tight black satin basque caught together in points in front over a high-collared gilet of white satin. The basque, which ripples violently from the waist line, is cut in points at the bottom and edged with fur. The skirt of black cloth is full and flaring. "Florindo" is an evening coat of black and bordeaux red velvet, trimmed with skunk, and "Miguel" is a charming little creation of gray blue faille, with the skirt tucked up in back to produce a bustle effect. The turned-up folds are caught with dull pink roses. Paquin uses much brilliant red panne velvet in cloaks and frocks and much yellow taffeta—all the shades of amber—in evening gowns. These taffeta evening gowns are very short and flaring and are either scalloped or cut in points at the bottom where they are cunningly stiffened with narrow-corded ruffles, shirred very full. Often the tightly shirred little ruffles are placed on the under side of the skirt and show with each movement of the wearer.—Kansas City Star.

White Bread.

Into your bread mixer put one cupful of flour, one tablespoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and a heaping tablespoonful of lard. Then pour in one pint of boiling water; stir until smooth and allow to cool. Add one quart of luke-warm water and one-half a yeast cake dissolved in one cupful of luke-warm water. Then add flour enough to make a firm dough; knead until smooth. In the morning mold into loaves and allow to raise. Bake for one hour. This recipe makes three loaves.

Italian Mold.

Cook two tablespoonfuls of rice until tender in a pint of milk in a double saucepan, with the very thin rind of a lemon. Sweeten to taste, add three sheets of leaf gelatin and the yolks of three eggs. Let cook in a double saucepan a few minutes longer to cook the yolks; add the whites, stiffly beaten and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Pour into a wetted mould and turn out when stiff and set.

New Trimming.

Lacings appear in some of the new frocks and blouses. Sleeves are sometimes laced from the elbow to the wrist, or even from the shoulder to the elbow. Lacings appear down the front of blouses and at the collar. The lacings are of a contrasting color, usually.

She Will Recover

So her doctor said. Her friends and neighbors felt sure of it too. They have used Peruna themselves and know of its merits. That old cough that had worried her for years and years, for which she had taken all sorts of cough medicines, has disappeared. Peruna is doing the work. She will recover. Indeed, she has recovered.

Her name is Mrs. William Holmann, 2764 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, Ill. She had suffered with catarrh of the bronchial tubes and had a terrible cough ever since a child. As she got older she grew worse. She coughed both winter and summer. Had to sit up at night. Could not sleep. "But all that has left me now," Peruna has cured me."

There are others, and there is a reason.
